ComplianceAsia and IMAS Collaborate to Deliver Comprehensive Sustainability, Ethics, Rules & Regulations Training Courses

Celebrating our three-year partnership with IMAS and countless hours dedicated to course development, we are delighted to relaunch the IMAS- Sustainability, Ethics, Rules & Regulations Training Courses in iLearn. This comprehensive bundle of courses is now available to support appointed representatives of capital market service licensees who cater to retail investors in meeting their mandated continuing professional development (CPD) requirements of six hours in ethics or rules and regulations. Specifically tailored for investment management professionals in Singapore, these courses align with the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) requirements under SFA04-N09.

The bundle provides the flexibility for individuals to select six modules from a curated list of 12 courses, enabling them to customize their own preferred training program. The module options cover a wide range of essential topics, including AML/CFT in Singapore, Corporate Governance for Fund Managers and Senior Management Individual Accountability Regime, Market Abuse in Singapore, Strengthening Cyber Resilience in Singapore, Introduction to Sustainable Investing in Practice, and more.

"All organizations, especially those in the financial services industry, need to prioritize sustainability, ethics, and regulatory compliance. Our collaboration with IMAS has allowed us to develop a comprehensive bundle of courses that equips investment management professionals with the knowledge and skills to navigate the evolving regulatory landscape and fulfill the CPD requirements."

"We take great pride in leveraging our expertise to contribute to the content development of this course bundle. ComplianceAsia is dedicated to supporting IMAS in providing high-quality and impactful training solutions to the investment management industry in Singapore," said Philippa Allen, CEO and Founder of ComplianceAsia.
